16 U. S. WARSHIPS TO SAN DOMINGO

Administration Shortly Will Have 3,000 Marines on Hand to Prevent Raid on Dominican Customs.

The preparedness of the administration to meet emergency in foreign lands is well illustrated, according to certain officials here, by the powerful American naval and marine forces which have been concentrated against a threatened raid on the Dominican customs surplus by Senator Arias and his band of adventurous followers. Arias, with a bodyguard of 200 or 300, is concealed somewhere in the outlying district of San Domingo City. To hold him in check the Navy Department has dispatched sixteen American warships to Dominican waters and there will soon be a force of 3,000 American marines on the island. If Arias is determined to precipitate a conflict the United States, which is backing the customs surplus, will not be found unprepared.

President Fines.
 Former President Jimenez, who resigned and fled from the capital after hearing that Arias intended to make trouble, apparently cannot be persuaded to resume his duties despite the promise of support from Washington.

Until he returns the Dominican republic remains presidentless and the situation continues to present potential difficulties to the United States.

In addition to the American marines already in San Domingo, the fourth regiment of marines, under command of J. H. Pendleton, left San Diego, Cal., on June 6 for New Orleans, where it will be joined by the Eighth company from the naval station there. The command which includes about 40 officers and enlisted men will then proceed to San Domingo.

SELECTION OF MANAGER HUGHES' NEXT BIG TASK

Hitchcock Not Thoroughly Acceptable,
 but Choice Would Placate Progressives.

Charles Evans Hughes' first big task will be the selection of a campaign manager acceptable to the various Republican elements behind his candidacy. Under ordinary conditions, this post would go to Frank Hitchcock, who handles his interests at Chicago, but Hitchcock is not acceptable to those leaders who accepted Hughes only when they could not put across another candidate.

Hitchcock, however, would be acceptable to Progressive party leaders, and his elevation to the chairmanship of the national committee would be in the nature of further peace offerings to that faction. Hitchcock, throughout the pre-convention campaign, was believed to have been strongly inclined to the Colonel as a second choice. The Old Guard leaders, however, will seek to have Chairman Hill retained, although middle-of-the-road men in the party believe this would be an unnecessary affront to the only half-repentant Progressive.

The name of George W. Wickham, Attorney General under President Taft, is mentioned as a compromise in this connection.

Auto Breaks Boy's Rib.

Four-year-old Jesse Flax, 1715 Tenth street northwest, while playing at Tenth and R streets northwest last evening, was struck by an automobile and suffered a fractured rib. The unidentified operator of the machine drove the boy to Garfield Hospital, where he was treated and later went home. The police are trying to locate the owner of the car.

"SUFF" ENVOYS READY TO MOVE

Plan Invasion of St. Louis Convention to Fight for Equal Rights Plank.

Miss Lucy Burns, vice chairman of the Congressional Union; Miss Katharine Rolston Fisher, Mrs. Henelia Hill Weed, Miss Edith Goode and Mrs. W. Thompson Burch returned to Washington yesterday from Chicago, where they participated in the national convention which launched the Woman's Party.

Other Washington delegates at Chicago will go to the Democratic convention in St. Louis this week, and will there hold a hearing before the Democrats, urging them to secure the passage of the Federal suffrage amendment at this session. Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional Union, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Baker, Miss Doris Stevens, Mrs. John Jay White, Miss Mabel Vernon, Miss Anne Martin and Miss Maud Younger will be among those who will attend the convention of the Democrats.

Miss Burns made the following statement: "The plank in the Republican platform declaring for woman suffrage was the first suffrage plank ever adopted by one of the dominant parties and indicates a tremendous national pressure behind the suffrage movement. The Progressive plank espouses woman suffrage both by the State and the Federal method."

"The plank in the Republican platform declaring for woman suffrage was the first suffrage plank ever adopted by one of the dominant parties and indicates a tremendous national pressure behind the suffrage movement. The Progressive plank espouses woman suffrage both by the State and the Federal method."

Plank Worded Cautiously.
 "The Republican plank is more cautiously worded; but it is clearly devised so as to leave it open to the Republicans to support either State or national suffrage if they wish to do so."

"Republicans are not anxious, at this time, to take any stand which will speed up Democratic action in favor of woman suffrage before this session. If they declared for national woman suffrage they would leave the Democrats nothing to do, with 4,000,000 women voters in the national field, but to pass the national suffrage amendment this session."

"Such a record would give the Democrats an enormous lead over the Republicans in the twelve suffrage States, but still the Republicans have it entirely in their power, if they should control the next Congress, to seize upon the suffrage issue, and make themselves the party of enfranchisement for women."

AUTO HITS BOY WHO DIES LATER

Car Was Driven by Cousin of Ambassador Naon, of Argentina.

The motor car of Abel V. Ezeiza, 150 Massachusetts avenue northwest, ran over and crushed Leroy Shepherd, a four-year-old child, at the corner of Twentieth and L streets northwest early yesterday afternoon.

In the arms of Miss Roberta Wright, 805 Twentieth street northwest, the child was rushed to Emergency Hospital in Mr. Ezeiza's car, where he died of a fractured skull and internal injuries in less than half an hour.

Leroy was in company with his mother, Nettie Shepherd, who lives at 1019 Nineteenth street northwest, and was riding his tricycle down L street at the time. The automobile was going south on Twentieth street. It is said the child ran over the curb into the path of the car.

With Mr. Ezeiza, at the time was his wife, Mrs. Sarah Ezeiza, who is the daughter of Col. Eduardo Raybaud, military attaché of the Argentine Embassy. Mrs. Ezeiza was overcome by the accident and nearly collapsed as the child was rushed to the hospital with his grief-stricken mother.

Mr. Ezeiza, who is a cousin of Ambassador Romulo Naon, of Argentina, went to the Third precinct and made a personal report of the accident. He remained there until later released by order of the coroner. An inquest will be held by Coroner Nevitt at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

ers and delegates and visitors, glance a little way into the future, and are really appalled at the prospect of unbroken placidity. They have been getting off into corners and trying to start an argument, hoping that it might lead to something worth while in the way of a battle, but they find themselves presently agreeing that Wilson and Marshall must be nominated, and that the Colonel has played them a cat's trick, and they go arm in arm for a nip of something at the bar.

Where the Republicans ardently desire peace, the Democrats crave trouble—not a fight that would tear things wide open—a fight led by Mr. Bryan, say—but the appearance of controversy, something to agitate. They don't intend to let Mr. Bryan through the ropes, because he might not box according to the rules which, this year, are framed against biting, gouging and the surreptitious use of brass knuckles. The men who are running the convention are giving Bryan bench room among the working correspondents, that's all—and he will have a difficult time in starting anything even if he so desired.

Little Too Much Amity.
 What the leaders and delegates are praying for is a sharp, stiff issue to arise—something that will produce a lot of readable speeches—and thereby make for most desirable publicity. The outlook is poor. If the Democratic convention possessed a press agent that loved his art, he would be hunting for another job. Toby Hamilton would shake his head over the situation, for there is mighty little publicity meat in sweet amity. National Committeeman Marsh of Iowa, put the case this afternoon: "What we need," he said, "is a rip-snorting, knock-down fight, followed by all-around handshaking."

At first glance there would seem to be small likelihood of Mr. Marsh getting his wish, but you never can tell about a Democratic convention, even when Bryan's hands are tied. Looking about wistfully, the Democrats observe a collection of candidates for Vice President who might at a pinch start something in the nature of a fuss. The program is to renominate Vice President Marshall, but there are several persons who want the honor. Missoudias has in Gov. Major, Nebraska offers Gov. Morf, Roger Sullivan insists that he is not joking in putting up his name, and Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, would not refuse a nomination.

GHOULS SEEK JEWELS. Violate Tomb of Once Noted Beauty in Their Search.

Paris, June 11.—Seeking a marvelous emerald necklace and other jewels worth $100,000, ghouls yesterday violated for the second time the tomb of Ginette Lantelme, the famous beauty and wife of the late Alfred Edwards, who was drowned in 1910 while traveling in a houseboat on the Rhine.

Although the oak lid of the leaden shell was ripped off, the robbers left empty-handed, the jewels having been removed from the Pere Lachaise Cemetery at the end of 1911 after the first attempt to rob the gem-adorned remains of Mme. Lantelme.

U. S. CITIZENS ARE MENACED

Mexican Situation Soon May Reach the Critical Stage.
 Outbreaks Feared.

Mexican affairs are expected to take a critical turn about the time the Democratic national convention assembles at St. Louis to renominate President Wilson and endorse his policies.

Official reports from all parts of the Mexican republic indicate a rapidly spreading flame of anti-American feeling. The Carranza government, which advises to the State Department indicate is nearer than ever to the brink of a complete collapse, is either powerless to suppress the demonstrations that are taking place, or is making no effort to suppress them. Five different factions are at present operating independently of the de facto government, all of which, apparently are taking advantage of the presence of American troops on Mexican soil to undermine Carranza.

Although both the State and War Departments were without any fresh advice yesterday it was feared that at any moment news would be received of an attack on American citizens somewhere in Mexico. The State Department has been advised that a Pacific Coast mail steamer is due today at Acapulco on the west coast to take off the American refugees there, and arrangements have been made for the vessel to perform a similar service at Salina Cruz. No report has been received concerning the Americans still at Chihuahua.

It is now expected that Secretary Lansing's reply to the Carranza demand for a withdrawal of the American forces will be despatched to Mexico City within the next few days.

Mail Service Extended.

Delivery of mail from the Washington Postoffice has been extended to Friendship Heights, Somerset and Drummond, Md., suburbs lying just across the District line, along the Rockville Pike. Mail for the residents of this section, which has heretofore been addressed to Bethesda, Md., and delivered by rural carrier from that office, is now delivered from the Chevy Chase station of the Washington office.

Fire Does Damage of $850.

Fire in a stable of the Columbia Brick Company at 337 Cedar street, Takoma Park, last night did $850 damage to the building and $100 to feed and harness stored in it. The fire occurred in the early evening and most of Takoma Park citizens turned out to see the blaze. It was some few minutes after the fire apparatus arrived before the flames were under control.

LLOYD GEORGE FOR HOME RULE

Proposals to Irish Party Meeting Include Imperial Conference at Close of War.

(By the Sun News Service.)

London, June 11.—The proposals made by Mr. Lloyd George to the Irish party meeting, which may be regarded as the proposals of the government, include provision for an imperial conference, which shall include representatives from all the dominions, to meet immediately after the war to consider the government of the empire, including Ireland.

The official report of the meeting gives Mr. Lloyd George's proposals as follows: First—The immediate operation of home rule.

Second—The introduction immediately of an amending bill as a war emergency act.

Third—During the war the Irish members are to remain at Westminster and the six Ulster counties are left under their imperial government.

Fourth—Immediately after the war an imperial conference of representatives from all the dominions, will consider after the war to consider the government of the empire, including Ireland.

Fifth—Immediately afterwards and during the war emergency interval the permanent settlement of all the great outstanding problems shall be proceeded with.

The meeting protested against the continuance of martial law in Ireland, and demanded that prisoners undergoing servitude in connection with the rising be treated as war prisoners. It also expressed dissatisfaction with the personnel and conduct of the inquiry into the Irish situation.

LIONESS AT SHOW LEAPS ON TRAINER

Mme. d'Orcy Regains Feet as Women
 Scream, and Drives Beasts
 Into Cages.

New York, June 11.—While an audience of several hundred persons watched Mme. Georgia d'Orcy put a dozen performing lions through paces at the Bostock animal arena in Luna Park, Coney Island, last night, a lioness, after snarling defiance of commands, sprang upon Mme. d'Orcy, bore her to the floor of the cage and sank her teeth in the trainer's left arm.

While women in the audience shrieked and screamed, Mme. d'Orcy, after a few seconds' struggle, regained her feet and slashed the roaring lioness with her whip. Attendees opened the exit trap door in the rear of the cage and the trainer fought the animals back to the runway leading to their cages. Irma, the last to be backed into her cage, still snarled at her mistress, who, though suffering from shock, maintained her composure. She reassured her audience with a few words and withdrew. The act was not continued.

Dr. P. I. Nash, of 84 Neptune avenue, Coney Island, treated Mme. d'Orcy for several deep wounds on the left arm just below the elbow. She has been an animal trainer twenty years and has been with the Bostock show for twelve.

SHOOTS HERSELF WHEN HUSBAND WINS DIVORCE

Woman Writes Note Asking that She
 Be Buried in Wedding Gown.

New York, June 11.—Following a decision in the Supreme Court yesterday granting a divorce to Joseph Kaufman, manufacturer of safety razors, from his wife, Mrs. Angela C. Kaufman, Mrs. Kaufman returned to her home at 115 West Seventy-second street, carefully laid out upon her bed her wedding dress, wrote a note directing that she be buried in it, and lying down beside the gown, pressed a revolver against her breast and pulled the trigger. The bullet glanced off a rib and came out of her body again inflicting a painful but not serious wound. Forgetful of her intention to kill herself, the wounded woman dragged herself to a telephone and called up a Dr. Stephenson, of 30 West Fifth street, her family physician.

"Doctor, I've shot myself and am dying."

The south has relics of extinct mammals which were practically real sea serpents.

Can you hurry and come up? she screamed over the telephone.

He found the woman barely conscious. Mr. Kaufman began divorce proceedings against his wife several months ago, the papers filed by him expressing the belief that a divorce previously obtained by his wife from a former husband was invalid.
